7. How I made money.

How I got started?

I started by doing some research. I found out Facebook was a good way to make money. I read stories about other people doing the same thing I wanted to do. They made it look easy, and eventually, it was! I started by creating a new Facebook account. After doing that I created an account on www.cpalead.com. CPAlead is a website where you can make money with your website. If it's a content gateway or a banner on your website, if people complete an offer you get the money! The best part? It doesn't take a lot of time to do this. I will explain more about this later.

How I found out Facebook worked?

Before I can start explaining that I will explain what Facebook is. Facebook is the biggest Social Network website at this moment. It has over 500 million (yes, that's 500.000.000) members. Facebook is better than Google. Though Google is the biggest search engine in the world, people only see your website if they use the keywords you have used on your website. With Facebook, this is different. There are lots of ways to get visitors to your website without even using keywords. This is the key to success. As soon as I knew this, I knew Facebook would be a good website for me to make money on.

How I came up with ideas for Facebook fanpages?

This is one of the hardest things with this method. Though it is easy to get visitors to your website, the hard part is to actually get their attention. How I did this? Very easy! Just come up with ideas that are very popular at that moment! When I started this the movie The Hangover was very popular at that moment. After a few minutes of brainstorming I came up with the idea of making a Facebook fanpage with the title: "I Can't Believe This Used To Be The Script Of The Hangover!". This page was a big success! In one day it had 300 fans. That's not a lot, that is true. The next morning it had around 3000 fans. Still not a lot, but it is reasonable. Next morning 10000 fans. This is starting to get good. Next morning I checked the other facebook fanpage and a big surprise was waiting for me. It had over 200000 fans! That made me really happy. The page went viral. I will tell more about getting your page going viral later. 200000 fans meant a lot of money. So I started to get them visit my website. I made a blog on Blogspot. Few images of the Hangover. I got the script of the Hangover, changed a few lines at the start and DONE! That same day I came up with a better fanpage. "I Can't Believe Lady Gaga Used To Look Normal!!!". I searched on Google: "Lady Gaga Senior Picture". This came up with a few images of her dressing up normal, less make-up, etc.. I posted a status update on my big page about The Hangover. The Lady Gaga fanpage had over 250000 fans in an hour! At that moment I had dollar signs in my eyes. I made another blog for the Lady Gaga fanpage.

How I got my pages to go viral?

This is the hardest part. You can have the best name ever for a Facebook fanpage, but it can still only have 300 fans because you don't know what to do. I did the easiest thing at that time. Simple make a FBML tab on your fanpage. A FBML tab is a tab on your fanpage where you can put up images and write lots of text. The most important thing is to make the FBML tab your landing page. This means that whoever visits your fanpage, they will start on the FBML tab. This is what I did: There was a script that made it possible to hide content on your FBML tab. So I wrote: Step 1. Please click the "Become a fan" (That's called the Like Button now) to get started.

The next steps were hidden thanks to the script. So they had to click the "Become a fan" button first. As soon as they clicked it, the other 2 steps appeared: Step 2. Click on "Invite friends" on the left to invite your friends.

Step 3. Invite atleast 25 friends. As soon as they all accept, the script will show up in 24 hours. That's how you get your pages go viral. They want to see the script so they will invite their friends.

How to get visits on your website?

As soon as I hit 250000 fans I would just change step 3 in:

Step 3. Click here (and there would be a link to my blog) to see the script!

They really want to see it so they check out your blog. To make people aware of the fact it changed, I did a status update saying: "I heard a lot of people had problems with the script not appearing. I uploaded it on my website and you can check it there now! Just click here (I would put a link to the FBML page here) and read step 3! The status updates reach every fan of the fanpage, except if they block any updates from your page. On the Lady Gaga page I had 250000 fans and it was still growing. So that meant about 250000 people would see that status update. I got lots of visits on my website. In the next step I will tell you how all those visits converted into money.

How I made money?

I got lots of visits to my websites. So I put a content gateway on the website. This is a kind of pop up that simply blocks your content. The visitor has to complete an offer in order to see the content. You can easily create one on www.cpalead.com. Cpalead has lots of free offers and surveys. Visitors complete a survey by simply write down their email address, or cellphone number. For every survey they complete you get money! Anywhere from $0,30 to $6,50! With the CPA gateway I earned about they complete you get money! Anywhere from $0,30 to $6,50! With the CPA gateway I earned about $1800 in less than a week! I was also making money selling status updates at the same time. People just simply tell you what they want as a status update on your page, you send that to your visitors and they pay you. I sold about 3 a day, asking $60 each. That's another $180 a day for about 30 minutes work total. After a week someone asked me if I wanted to sell my Lady Gaga fanpage. After a few offers I accepted $1850 for the fanpage. About two months later I contacted a fanpage owner of a 1.8 million fanpage. I bought his fanpage for $450. After a few hours I had bids of $2000. I sold that page after a week for $3200 (so $2750 profit!), bringing my total amount of money I made on Facebook to $7237! It didn't even cost me a lot of time. It took about 40 hours in total to get $7237. So I earned about $180 an hour. There aren't a lot of jobs that pay that much!
