

So what is this method about ???

1. Steam
2. Steam
3. Steam
4. Selling Steam accounts

Basicly this method is so easy as hell i dont even think it will reach 2 pages first start off by making a new msn, make it something like steamstore@hotmail.com <<< in your language now find some supplier of hacked accounts on hackforums, someone that has been in the steam selling game for some time and sell them at a good price either find someone or advertise that you will be buying steam accounts for a little higher price than they have been usully sold but they have to be secured for more than 1 week or 2 weeks or so and must be unverified

Okay find some good site in your country and advertise your msn saying “selling legit steam accounts cheap!”

“how do we get our accounts?”

we get them through a company that helps people sell their accounts or say you are that company or something use some nice SE

it is better to have a CC when you are doing this because then you can always pay for accounts but not neccesary.

You then set up your msn and wait for the adds to flow in you decide if you take paypal and what currency not the reason why you set it up for your country is because your fellow people will trust you more and once you gain some rep in this business you will have a good flow of customers coming in, and people refering to your msn so basicly i use my bank account payment method.

But you can also accept paypal or anything you want.

Ok lets say you just got an steam account worth 900$ then sell it for 450$ or so always aim to sell it for around 50% of the original price and people will think its the BOMB that they get these accounts with a 50% off and will refer many many people to come to shop with you this is my method of making hundreds of dollars per day (no joke) people deposit to my bank (i only accept that) and after they transfer i immediatly log in to my bank and move it to another account (so the transfer isnt taken back) the reason for you having accounts that have been secured for 1-2 weeks is because it decreases the chances by alot that they are ever retrieved and if you have the email address with it then there is very little chances (like 0.01%)

i have now been getting a constant flow of customers from this and they all leave happy

Also i did not say this was an super duper method but it works! And its simple as hell!

So go on try this money doesnt have to be complicated, we only make it that way because it seems like money is on a stall for us who have not made much.

But truth is be creative make up something thats easy as hell and make $$$ of it

Your sincerely TheKid from hackforums.net